Increase work efficiency

Hosted VoIP allows your business to have all its voice based communications looked after by one system and one supplier. From VoIP number provisioning to call recording, hosted IP telephony has all the features you would expect from a traditional PBX and some which are simply only available from a hosted IP telephony infrastructure.

If you are looking for a fully managed telephony service to install into new premises or to replace or enhance your existing system, with minimal or no capital expenditure, then Netsense

Hosted VoIP system is the ideal solution for you.
